

Free seminar: Life after GDPR 20 September 2018

Providing practical advice and guidance for Owner Managed Businesses

Taylor Walton invites you to Beales Hotel for a dedicated seminar in relation to the impact of the new General Data Protection Regulations

Why attend our Seminars?

Our seminars are informal, yet insightful, and designed to deliver the key information you need to help make your business a success. The sessions are hosted by our highly experienced lawyers, each a true specialist in their field.

We only accept a maximum of 25 attendees at each session to ensure everyone has the opportunity to discuss their specific questions and needs. Booking is therefore essential to guarantee your place at these highly popular events.

Life after GDPR

Now that the tidal wave of consent emails and updates to privacy policies preceding the 25 May has subsided, this informative and interactive session will explore key themes including:

- Identifying the most suitable lawful basis for consent
- Assessing risk
- Demonstrating compliance
- Key issues as an employer in relation to the new regulations
